PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Senior PMM with 7+ years building GTM infrastructure from zero in B2B SaaS and creative market environments where no playbook existed. Proven track record translating complex platform capabilities into differentiated value propositions and buyer-specific positioning that moves multi-stakeholder buying groups through the funnel and drives closed revenue. Known for going beneath surface-level audience data to identify the insight that actually drives behavior, then building the positioning and messaging architecture that converts it into pipeline, programming, and closed revenue. Deep expertise across the full PMM lifecycle: ICP and ideal customer profile development, market segmentation, competitive positioning and analysis, win/loss analysis, voice of customer research, and sales enablement. Brings equal fluency in the strategic (positioning frameworks, GTM operating systems, market entry strategy) and the executable (nurture journeys, battlecards, objection handling, pipeline attribution). Built and owned the complete GTM infrastructure at Common App's B2B SaaS platform driving 363K in marketing-attributed revenue and 48% of a 755K pipeline while equipping lean sales teams with the messaging, collateral, and competitive intelligence to close.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Senior Product Marketing Manager Common App (B2B SaaS Platform) | Remote

2024 – Present

Common App operates a B2B SaaS platform serving higher education institutions. As the first dedicated PMM, built the full GTM infrastructure from zero positioning, demand gen, sales enablement, pipeline attribution, supporting a lean sales team closing multi-stakeholder enterprise deals.

- Drove 363K in marketing-attributed revenue representing 48% of 755K total pipeline through GTM strategy, product positioning, value proposition development, and demand generation programs supporting a sales-led motion.
- Designed and executed end-to-end buyer journey optimization in Salesforce Marketing Cloud: automated lead intake, behavior-based nurture journeys mapped to buyer goal and lifecycle stage, converting 103 leads into 12 signed agreements at 11.6% conversion rate (182K revenue) and compressing the sales cycle.
- Built and owned the full sales enablement ecosystem: buyer persona frameworks, market segmentation model, lead scoring model, ICP definitions, audience-specific talk tracks, objection handling guides, sales playbooks, and competitive battlecards—equipping a lean sales team with consistent, defensible messaging and sales collateral across a complex prospect universe.
- Repositioned peer validation webinar series through refined messaging, format, and speaker strategy, making it the highest-converting demand gen channel: 60% close rate, 180K revenue, 15 agreements from 94 attendees.
- Achieved 43% average email open rates and 3.6–13.7% CTR (vs. 2% industry benchmark) through segmented, behavior-based campaigns with audience-specific messaging mapped to distinct pain points by buyer segment.
- Conducted win/loss analysis and synthesized voice of customer intelligence from in-person feedback sessions, CRM data, and behavioral signals to map the enterprise buyer journey, develop competitive analysis, and refine positioning, translating insights into the 2026–2027 marketing strategy.

- Authored the FY27 GTM Strategy adopted by leadership as the operating plan for market expansion: five execution phases, 12-month timeline, lead generation ecosystem, CRM and Salesforce reporting infrastructure, and embedded market research framework across three buyer segments.
- Developed and executed ABM conference strategy spanning multiple national events, session development, co-presentation, booth presence, post-event outreach, generating 325+ qualified leads and 363K in pipeline.

Senior Digital Strategist Fors Marsh | Remote

2021 – 2024

Fors Marsh is a research and strategy consultancy serving federal agencies and healthcare organizations. Drove audience strategy, messaging, and behavior-change programs for multi-stakeholder enterprise environments with high compliance requirements.

- Developed ICP-level audience profiles and messaging frameworks for multi-stakeholder programs, mapping distinct needs, objections, and motivators across practitioner types directly transferable to complex B2B sales motions and objection handling.
- Built behavior-change campaigns across multi-stakeholder enterprise environments; drove 35%+ engagement lifts through segmentation, competitive analysis, and message testing across paid, web, and social channels.
- Aligned cross-functional teams across creative, content, and program delivery; briefed senior stakeholders on audience performance, marketing strategy, and strategic direction building executive communication and internal alignment skills directly applicable to GTM leadership.

Senior Digital Experience Manager & SEO Manager American Retirement Association | Arlington, VA

2017 – 2021

ARA is a professional association operating subscription-based certification and conference products generating 1–3M annually in a regulated financial services market.

- Led product marketing and GTM strategy for subscription certification programs and flagship conference products—owning end-to-end positioning, value proposition development, content strategy, and launch execution across complex multi-stakeholder sales cycles.
- Built the buyer persona and ideal customer profile framework from primary member research that shaped organization-wide product messaging, differentiation strategy, and positioning across all revenue products.
- Partnered with field sales teams to develop positioning guides, competitive battlecards, sales collateral, and objection handling resources, improving effectiveness across complex, multi-stakeholder sales cycles.
- Increased organic traffic 50%+ through SEO and marketing strategy; optimized conversion funnels using Tableau and HubSpot analytics improving customer acquisition and retention.

Founder, Fractional PMM Practice Mouse & Matter

2007 – Present

- Serve as founding product marketing resource for early-stage and founder-led B2B SaaS teams, defining ICPs, ideal customer profiles, buyer personas, value propositions, positioning, messaging frameworks, and launch strategy.
- Build narrative systems including messaging architectures, sales enablement playbooks, objection handling guides, and sales collateral frameworks supporting market entry in ambiguous, greenfield environments.
- Drive 20–40% increases in engagement and conversion by translating GTM and marketing strategy into high-performing email, web, and demand generation programs.
- Design qualitative audience research and narrative strategy frameworks for creative and cultural clients, translating stakeholder insight into positioning, messaging architecture, and client-ready programming that serves multiple buyer audiences simultaneously.
